Lt. Governor's Office on Aging Awards $9,000
Grant to Marlboro County Council on Aging

Columbia – Lt. Governor André Bauer's Office on Aging announced today that the Marlboro County Council on Aging will receive a $9,000 state grant to help with upgrades to the electrical system and improve parking at the senior center in downtown Bennettsville. Senior centers in eight South Carolina communities will share in a $1.9 million package of state assistance that will be distributed to support construction and renovation efforts statewide.

"The services and programs that these centers provide make a positive impact and help create many opportunities to improve the quality of life of seniors and their families in those communities," said Bauer.

The senior center in Bennettsville provides services such as nutrition, health and wellness programming, exercise classes, home care and social activities to older residents of Marlboro County. Numerous studies have shown the positive impact these kinds of services have on the physical and mental well-being of senior adults. The money provided by the Lt. Governor's Office on Aging grant, along with matching funds from other sources, will allow the senior center to meet the growing demand for these types of services in Marlboro County. South Carolina's senior population is expected to double over the next two decades.
